

On November 6th and 7th, 2014 the president of our association participated the DACH-Seminar organized DAAD in Bonn. The participants are representatives of Chinese societies in German universities and professional federations. Each individual has introduced the current status of his or her organization and related activities, especially the experience of Chinese-German communications. During the meeting, the delegates have discussed in depth the 5 topics, integration issues of Chinese students studying in Germany, career development of Chinese alumni in Germany, German-Chinese professional academic exchange and network build-up, funding sources of alumni activities, as well as responsibilities and tasks of Chinese alumni in Germany. It is agreed that in the future there should be more interaction and mutual learning from each other's successful experience. Organizers of 2015 GCCCD Annual Conference in Jena have got in touch with relevant association for preparatory activities.
